EAST AND WEST FACE ANOTHER TEST IN BERLIN

City Has Two Police Chiefs; One Suspended Gets Russian Backing.

By The Associated Press

BERLIN July 27 — Blockaded Berlin turned up with two police chiefs today thus setting the stage for a new test of strength between East and West.

Chief Paul Markgraf suspended by the anti-Communist city government for being undemocratic un German and uncooperative' continued to receive the backing of the Russians, who appointed him originally

His anti-Communist deputy Dr Johannes S Stumm directed by the city government to take over was ordered dismissed by the Russian commander of Berlin Maj Gen Alexander Kotikov The dismissal was a one-power act however and the city is run by four powers.

This new issue came to a head just as the United States and Britain began retaliatory action for the Soviet land blockade of Berlin The two western allies, because of "technical difficulties" banned all railway traffic between their zones and the Soviet zone

The phrase — technical difficulties —was the same one used by the Russians in establishing their blockade British and American newsmen conceded it really meant "economic sanctions

The Western air lift, flying food and supplies into Berlin to beat the Russian land block, continued apace The Americans rounded out their first month of the flying freight service yesterday with 288 flights carrying 1 829 tons of food

At the same time there were two other developments in the German situation

▶In Frankfurt the military governors of the French British and American zones reached final agreement with German political leaders for establishment of a unified government in western Germany The plans call for election of a constituent assembly by Sept 1 with the government —for 45 000 000 Germans—to be running by late this year or early next

▶In London top-flight diplomats of the United States Britain and France conferred in an effort to find some means of ending the problems of Berlin and of getting a start on settling other western-Russian differences over Germany.

Says Ambassadors Will Visit Molotov

By The Associated Press

LONDON, July 27 — A diplomatic official said today the western powers have decided that their ambassadors will present personally to Foreign Minister V M Molotov proposals for settling the Berlin crisis

W Bedell Smith and Sir Maurice Peterson, the American and British envoys to Russia both attended a three-hour conference today of ranking diplomats of the three western powers

The informant said that under the agreed plan, the ambassadors of the U S, Britain and France will present the views of their countries orally to Molotov on the Russian land blockade of Berlin and the question of talks on other German problems

This method, less formal than another diplomatic note is viewed as offering greater leeway in getting an agreement It avoids in part at least, the risk of drawing another formal diplomatic rejection

Reports Soviet Boosts Fighter Plane Force

By The Associated Press

BERLIN July 27 — German press reports today said the Russians are increasing substantially the number of fighter planes including jets, stationed in their zone of Germany around Berlin

These reports appeared as the Americans strengthened their combat plane forces at bases in western Germany The most recent U S additions were 16 jet fighters.

American air force officials here said the Russians have posted new warnings of maneuvers by their fighters in the air corridors traversed by British and American transports flying over the Russian land blockade The Americans said some Russian jets have been seen in these corridors but that most fighters sighted were the more conventional Yaks.

Council Seeks County Aid to Push Work on Ququa Sewer Project

City council took steps last night to relieve Marion's critical storm water sewer situation

Consideration of the critical situation by council was opened by a presentation of the status of the Ququa 4-foot storm sewer by Tom Cathers city engineer After hearing the report council unanimously approved a resolution directing the safety-service director to petition the county commissioners to clean out the Ququa ditch from a point 1 850 feet south of Mt Vernon avenue to Barks road or far enough to provide a good and sufficient outlet for a proposed Ququa storm sewer serving east Marion.

The resolution was presented and adopted after Mr Cathers reported cleaning of the open ditch outlet of the Ququa sewer to be too large a project for present city facilities Mr Cathers and Safety-Service Director E O Uncapher met last week with Marion county commissioners to discuss the project. The commissioners gave no encouragement to the city as to when assistance with the pressing problem could be provided, or if help would be forthcoming from the county County Engineer Walter W Johnson advised the commissioners that county crews already have similar ditch work scheduled as far ahead as July, 1949 Effect of the petition by the city to the county is to obtain quicker service in cleaning out the vital Ququa ditch which city engineers believe may have to be deepened from two to three feet in places and cleaned for a distance of about a mile and a half below the tiled section of the sewer outlet

Rains Stir Action

Recent heavy rains brought the Ququa project into the public eye when several hundred south and east side homes were flooded by back water from the heavily overloaded Columbia street storm water sewer. The 48-inch Ququa storm water sewer, to drain east Marion and relieve pressure on the Columbia street sewer, would have its outlet near Barks road. The proposed sewer would run south from Indiana avenue on Reed avenue thence between properties of the Zachman farm and the Vernon Heights Realty Co Ququa ditch The tile section of the sewer is 3 700 feet long and the present open ditch end is 4 800 feet long Engineers now believe this open end must be extended to a full mile and a half for an efficient outlet. Councilman Herman Miller Fifth ward and Councilman-at-large Newton D Cunningham and Charles R Penniston supported from the floor by Mayor Dowler and Safety-Service Director Uncapher, pushed the Ququa ditch petition resolution through council in record time Approval of the resolution was unanimous

A petition for a street light at Blake and Toledo avenue was referred to the utility committee A petition from the residents of Gurley avenue between South State street and South Vine street for a curb and gutter, blacktopping of the street, and a catch basin was referred to the street and alley committee

A suggested scale of pay raises was read to council as submitted by policemen and firemen associations Under the suggested scale chiefs of both departments would be raised in pay from $277 50 to $325, captains in both departments and the fire department mechanic would be raised from $237 50 to $275, and patrolmen and firemen would be raised from $222 50 to $250. The matter was referred by council to the finance committee and the safety-service director for further consideration.

Report on Housing

The city auditor's annual report on the veterans' housing project at Lincoln park was read by the clerk and was the subject of favorable comment by council. Director Uncapher said the project is in excellent condition The city paid $8,567 to the federal government in proceeds from rent of the project, and still has $2 867 in a reserve maintenance fund

A five person delegation from Tully street protested to council the removal of the Tully street light, which had been located there they said from the time of Ed Sexton's service in council 21 years ago The light had been moved from Tully to North Prospect street, they said Council President Slack after hearing their protest at length ordered an investigation of the situation by the utility committee and a report on the matter at the next meeting. Tully street residents stated they would present a petition for restoration of the light at the next council meeting.

A three man delegation protested to council the poor condition of street and sidewalks on Bertram avenue The matter was referred to Councilman James C

ATOMIC PLANT WORK STARTED

Construction Force North of City Due To Reach 700 Soon.

Dayton officials of the Monsanto Chemical Co. today said employment in the construction of the new atomic energy research plant here would be increased to 700 within the next 60 to 90 days.

Approximately 250 now are employed in present construction activities, it was reported by Paul Leonard, assistant project manager for the Maxon Construction Co of Dayton, builders of the plant

Design drawings and specifications for the plant, to be known as the Scioto Laboratory, are nearing completion by the architectural firm of Giffels and Valet, Inc, under direction of the Monsanto company

Construction work, started several weeks ago, already is well under way by the Maxon company, which has the prime erector's contract with the atomic energy commission. Upon completion the laboratory will be operated by the Monsanto company for the AEC

Main Structure

The largest building to be erected is a research unit having a first floor area of 100,000 square feet Basement and second floor areas will be equivalent to about one-half the first floor area.

The Monsanto company now is receiving laboratory equipment for the project in one of the large storage buildings already in the area George Gabler, project manager for the Monsanto general engineering department, said that partial occupancy of the project by the operating company is scheduled for next spring with the entire project essentially completed by June 1, 1949

On 1,275-Acre Site

The laboratory project is being constructed on a 1,275-acre tract in what formerly was the Scioto Ordnance plant The district is known as the shop and inert storage area of the ordnance plant and a number of buildings already in the area will be used in the new atomic research work.

The land and buildings were acquired by the AEC last spring from the War Assets Administration.

NEAR RIOT FLARES AT DAYTON PLANT

(Picture on Page 13)

By The Associated Press

DAYTON, O. July 27—Picket line resistance flared today close to a riot as police made a flying wedge to permit reopening of the strike-bound Univis Lens Co plant.

Seven pickets, including one arrested in yesterday's disorders, were hauled away in a police wagon.

One non-striker was knocked down as he attempted to enter the plant He was treated at the company clinic The dress of a woman non-striker was ripped

Stink bombs again scented the tense atmosphere In previous disorders at the plant police had reported a chemical smelling like skunk oil had been sprayed about the picket line

Stanley Emerson, Univis vice president, estimated that by 9 a m. about 300 hourly rated employes had returned to work

GOV. HERBERT DEFENDS HIRING EX-CONVICTS

States Views After Employment as Guards at Reformatory Is Disclosed.

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS O. July 27—Gov Thomas J Herbert today defended employment of former convicts by the state

The governor upheld the policy after disclosure that several former convicts now were working as guards at the Mansfield Reformatory

The situation at Mansfield reformatory and other state penal institutions was discussed at a hearing the governor held yesterday with parole and welfare officials It was decided at the hearing to tighten up supervision of parolees as result of the two-week crime orgy of Robert Murl Daniels and John West. Both were parolees from Mansfield Reformatory.

Asked for comment on the fact that Willis (Red) Harris, a Mansfield reformatory guard, had served nearly two years in Ohio penitentiary for shooting with intent to wound, the governor said

"Certainly without going into any individual case, the state should not hesitate to employ former inmates of institutions when they have been paroled and have established their rehabilitation, any more than it should hesitate to go into private industry and insist upon employment.

"It is assumed that we have rehabilitated the inmates If the state doesn't take them how can we expect private industry to take them?"

Said Were After Harris

Daniels told officials he and West went to Mansfield early last Wednesday intending to kill Harris because he claimed the guard had abused him while he was at the reformatory Daniels said that when he and West failed to find Harris they went to the home of John Niebel, reformatory farm superintendent They killed Niebel, his wife and daughter

A L Glattke, reformatory superintendent, confirmed that Harris had served time in the penitentiary Glattke upheld his employment as a reformatory guard and said he did not believe Daniels' statement that Harris had abused Daniels.

Glattke gave this story of Harris employment

From 1923 until 1941 Harris worked as a guard at the reformatory with a good record Then he resigned to operate a dairy farm and while doing this undertook the sponsorship of a parolee

Injured in a fall from a tractor Harris was confined to bed in a plaster cast for a lengthy period While abed, Harris was approached by the parolee who told Harris he was leaving Harris drew a gun he had with him in bed and told the parolee he would have to return to the reformatory The gun discharged during the incident.

Served Penitentiary Term

Harris subsequently was convicted of shooting to wound and was admitted to the Ohio penitentiary April 6, 1942 After his parole from the institution in March, 1944, Harris obtained a guard position at the reformatory

Glattke added that two other former convicts were working at the reformatory and that investigation would show others are employed at other state penal institutions

Initial steps were taken yesterday to strengthen the parole field force following a meeting between Gov Thomas J Herbert and parole and welfare officials The governor said the field force virtually will be doubled, and that the entire probation and parole system will be expanded and tightened immediately

"I don't believe, however," Herbert said, "that the recent tragedies could have been avoided with the most effective parole system in the world"

More Money Needed

He said the expansion program is dependent chiefly on the state's ability to obtain emergency funds to hire supervisory and field officers at higher salaries than the state now is paying.

Yesterday the Franklin county grand jury indicted Daniels for first degree murder in the death of Earl Ambrose, Columbus tavern operator

Daniels was taken to Van Wert

Talk Flayed As "Political"

President's Message Followed by Both Criticism and Praise.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, July 27—Senator Wherry (Neb), acting Republican leader, said today President Truman's message proves the special congressional session "is purely political"

Terming Mr Truman's price control and other recommendations a "complete rehash of old messages," Wherry commented to newsmen

"We are just as anxious as anyone else to see prices lower, but I do not agree with the President on his approach"

Democrats on Capitol Hill generally spoke out in favor of the President's recommendations, except that southerners renewed their attacks on that section relating to civil rights law

Adjournment Out

Chairman Wolcott (R-Mich) left a meeting of the Republican high command to tell reporters that the house banking committee will meet Thursday on Mr Truman's cost-of-living recommendations. His words indicated the GOP top-drawer had turned down any idea of adjourning congress immediately Wolcott said

"It is very apparent that this administration is committed to high prices until after the election Otherwise the President would have used the powers he already has to stop inflation

"The President and the federal reserve system now have powers to stabilize our economy and the value of our currency It is

TRUMAN RILES SOUTH AGAIN

Federal Workers' FEPC and Army Racial Order Brings Protest.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, July 27—President Truman took part of the civil rights crusade into his own hands today by ordering an "FEPC" for federal workers and an anti-discrimination drive in the armed forces

Senator Russell of Georgia, leader of a formally organized bloc of southern senators, cried out a quick Dixie protest

He called the twin actions an "unconditional surrender" by the President to the Henry A Wallace progressive party convention and to the threatened civil disobedience campaign of some Negro leaders

Thus the Chief Executive and rebellious Dixie Democrats faced each other across even more sharply drawn battlelines

Battle Lines Drawn

Republican leaders maneuvered for position to join the fight once Mr Truman lays his promised new demand for anti-lynch, anti-poll tax and other anti-discrimination laws before the reconvened congress

The President set the tone for the civil rights portion of his message late yesterday by issuing two unheralded executive orders.

The first directed his cabinet officers to see that there is no discrimination within the federal family because of race, color, religion or national origin It also

ALSO ASKS FOR POWER TO HOLD WAGES IN LINE

Tells Congress Must Check Living Cost To Avert Depression.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, July 27—President Truman today demanded limited price control and an excess profits tax to help check the rising cost of living and avert "another great depression"

A depression, he said, would scuttle "the world's hope for a lasting peace."

The President coupled a reiterated plea for power to hold wages in line with his price control recommendation. And he personally confronted the politically hostile 80th congress with six other proposed brakes on spending — among them a return to credit restrictions and standby rationing authority

"The Communists, both here and abroad, are counting on our present prosperity turning into a depression," the Chief Executive declared

"They do not believe that we can—or will—put the brakes on high prices. They are counting on an economic collapse in this country"

That, he said, "would cut the ground from under the free nations of Europe."

Mr Truman addressed a joint meeting of the senate and house on the second day of the special session he called in the heat of a presidential campaign year.

Language Toned Down

But his language was far more restrained than it was on his western tour, or in his acceptance speech to the Democratic national convention Then he referred repeatedly to the Republican-controlled 80th congress as one of the worst in the nation's history.

The President did not spell out the details of his price control program. He left that a question to be answered by an administration bill promised later this week —perhaps tomorrow.

But he did say the controls should be authorized for "scarce commodities which basically affect essential industrial production or the cost of living" That would seem to mean things like steel and meat

Even before he spoke, GOP leaders made clear that Mr Truman could pin no real hope for action on more than one or two minor points in his message.

The Chief Executive hit hardest at the rising cost of living. But he led off by saying that another crying need is for more and cheaper housing.

So he called again for passage of the Taft-Ellender-Wagner bill to meet the "acute" housing shortage

Other Recommendations

In addition to selective price-wage controls and a return to the wartime excess profits tax at a rate he did not disclose, the President asked congress to:

▶Restore consumer credit controls—such as those which specified down payments and the time in which installment purchases had to be paid off.

▶Arm the federal reserve board with more power to regulate "inflationary bank credit."

▶Grant him power to regulate speculation on the commodity exchanges.

▶Grant him power to impose allocation and inventory controls over "scarce commodities which basically affect essential production or the cost of living," the same term he used for his price control proposal.

▶Strengthen controls over rent with adequate appropriations for enforcement to prevent "further unwarranted rent increases."

▶Give him standby power to ration "those few products in short supply which vitally affect the health and welfare." He said that unless further shortages occur, this authority "might not have to be used at all."

The President asked authority to limit wage increases only where they would "force a break in a price ceiling." Even in this instance an exception would be made if the increases were "essential to remedy hardships, to correct inequities or to prevent an actual lowering of living standards."

Contending that industry has boosted prices in many recent cases where profit margins were "adequate" to absorb the increased labor costs, the President added:

"Rising wages and [illegible]

arges totaled $250,000 while in 1947 they totaled $550,000. Expenditures likewise have increased having totaled $527,000 in 1941 and $1,200,000 in 1947.

Improvements which are underway or have been arranged for in the city include the sewers on Bennett and Clarion streets, and the new overhead traffic lights for the downtown area. Mayor Dowler stated. One of the most important future developments for the city is the new hospital toward which the state will put up $1 to every $2 the city raises. Other future developments include plans for a new city hall, crossing elimination, restaurant code being worked on by the city health department, and the airport.

Mayor Dowler also congratulated the club on its work in presenting the soap box derby last week.

General chairmen of the derby Joe Halberstein and Jack Hanley were complimented on their efforts.

Harvest Wheat As Good Neighbor Act

As a 'good neighbor' deed for Henry Schrote of four miles south of Marion on the Maple Grove road who has been ill for the last four weeks, a group of neighbors of the Schrotes joined together last Tuesday and combined 35 acres of wheat for Mr. Schrote. Four neighboring farmers, Arthur Lust, Jim Alcorn, Ray Rider and Ed Neidhart, operated combines owned by Henry Miller, George Young, Otis Rider and David Neidhart. The wheat was hauled away by George and John Young and LeRoy Fetter. These seven men completed the job in approximately three and one-half hours.

Mr. Schrote was removed to his home last Thursday from University hospital in Columbus where he underwent a major operation recently. He was in the hospital four weeks and his condition now is reported to be "fairly good."

Love's Perilous Path

By ADELE GARRISON

OLGA'S face was glowing when Mary finished her little speech.

"That is wonderfully kind and thoughtful of you, my dear daughter," she said and Mary wrinkled her nose at her stepmamma-in-law who she dearly loves.

"I think myself it is one of my better efforts," she said smugly. "Do you want any help, Auntie Madge on Faith's gown?"

Her eyes were dancing as she put the question for sewing is not one of Mary's accomplishments, although designing an effect is something in which she shines. But I knew that her question was designed primarily to hurry me and the rest back to the library.

"I'm sure I shall need you," I told Mary serenely, "and I'll call on you when I do."

Olga already was at the door of Olina's room, and the rest of us were close behind her.

"I'm the best basting-thread puller to be found anywhere," Mary boasted. "Our local got the prize because of me."

"You'll have a chance to prove your prowess today," Olina told her and Mary thumbed her nose at her when she was sure Olga wasn't looking at her.

"That for you," she said and then we were all back in the living room and Olga and I were bending over Faith's little gowns. We pinned up the places in the court gown where the very slight alterations had to be made, and I put Faith's party dress back in its box, and tied it.

"She'll never know it has left her closet," I said.

"You'd better remember to the quarter-inch where it hung, and which way the front of it faced," Mary said, with many remembrances of Faith's almost uncanny critical observations of her belongings, although she is woefully careless in her own care of them.

"I noted its position most carefully," I told her smiling. "I know my daughter."

"Do you want to take the box back now, Madge?" Olga asked.

"No indeed," I said, "if I'm not home when Dicky comes back, he won't look Faith up before he has talked to me. He'll telephone me down here. That will be plenty of time to take the box back."

"Then," Mary said briskly, "suppose we get busy on Mother's gown. You notice," she added hastily, as Olina quirked a malicious eyebrow at her, "that I am using the editorial 'we.' That means the rest of you will get to work, and I'll supervise when I'm not pulling out basting-threads. I'm a dandy supervisor, cracking the whip n' everything."

"I think the dining room table will be the best for this," Olga said, and Olina started for the door.

"I'll get it ready," she said and Mary dashed after her.

"You'll need a helper," she said, and the next instant Olga and I were alone.

"I am most grateful to Mary for that suggestion about my gown," she said. "Dicky said he would be back in an hour, but I fancy Philip's business for Charles will take longer than that. I'm sure we'll have enough done by the time Dicky comes, so that you can go on up to your apartment. And I'm also sure that we can have the gown finished before Philip comes home."

"Finished, and with you in it," I told her. "I know that was Mary's idea, and if not, it's mine, to have you seated in a big arm chair facing the door and dressed in that gown, when Philip comes through the door. And as I know Philip won't mind an audience for a minute—somebody will have to open the door, anyway, and we'll leave sixty seconds after he enters. I want to be down here—Dicky also if he's here—when Phil first catches sight of you in that gown."

Your Good Health

By DR. HERMAN N. BUNDESEN

Case Needing Careful Study

Enuresis or bed wetting is not by any means limited to small children but may persist to or even through the period of adolescence.

To determine what might be done ... he ... these older patients ... was recently made of a group of young men, aged 16 to 22 years, who were troubled with this disorder. It was found that ... two thirds of them were relieved by giving them ephedrine sulphate at bedtime (which increases the tone of the bladder muscle) by having them awaken ... one and four a.m. to empty the bladder by giving no liquids after 5:30 p.m., and by having them stop the flow of urine several times each time the bladder was being emptied. It would appear that the ephedrine prevents ... sleep very ... [illegible] ... children who suffer from enuresis.

If relief is not obtained by this method of treatment, it is suggested that a careful study of the bladder and the passageway from the bladder to the outside be made with X-ray. Sometimes a liquid may be injected, through which the X-rays will not pass, in order to outline the structures clearly. This is called cystourethrography. This procedure is easily and safely carried out and enables the physician to see the size, shape, position and any abnormalities of the bladder.

The fact that a patient with enuresis is relieved of this symptom does not mean that the defect causing them has been eliminated.

Bed-wetting itself is usually due to a condition of mental and reflex ... together with some abnormality of the urinary organs.

Youngsters whose parents have been divorced or separated those who live in unhappy homes and those who suffer from emotional disturbances are the ones who are most likely to suffer from enuresis. Thus, all of these various factors of the environment or surroundings must be studied when bed-wetting is present, and any contributing conditions corrected.

Any child of four years or older who must empty the bladder two or three times a night or who wets the bed should be studied carefully not only to determine if there is any abnormality of the bladder but to determine if there is any psychological disturbance.

TUESDAY JULY 27 1948

One Treatment for Everything

AT ONE point in the political patent medicine spiel adopted as its campaign platform the Wallace party says it proposes to guarantee the security of the American family as a happy and decent unit at the mandate of our times. That's a line intended to catch all political movement trying to round up the world's prize collection of malcontents.

The party's technique shows through when it dares to promise everything up to and including a happy home. It is the technique of appealing to everybody who thinks he has been wronged. If you do not have a happy home the Wallace party has a nostrum for you. Whatever your complaint may be against civilization the party's platform promises to come to your rescue unless that would entail approval of anything now existing anywhere in the United States.

The gist of the Wallace creed is that everything existing in this country is wrong and should be changed to satisfy those who are discontented. This is the standard practice of the Communists and fellow travelers who are among the chief instigators of the Wallace movement. They capitalize on discontent promising to cure everything with one treatment. They call this a "people's movement" artfully dodging the fact that what they propose to do is set up a political monopoly in the name of the discontented and thereafter to exercise their monopoly over all people—the discontented as well as the contented.

Statistical Sucker Traps

THERE has been no period in the era of statistics unless it may have been the depression of most recent memory when the folly of averages caused more confusion than it's causing right now.

For example it's pointed out that prices on the average are at such and such a point, which is so and so many percentage points higher than the point reached in, say, 1939. Naturally this being a time of inflation, the point is higher than it should be for the comfort and convenience of those who have not shared in the inflation of money wages or the more moderate increase in real wages, also represented as being so much higher percentage-wise than it was in 1939 or whatever year has been chosen by some unknown statistician.

The cost-of-living index likewise announced as an average blandly conceals behind its digits and decimal points the fact that food prices for example have risen out of all reasonable proportion to the prices of manufactured goods. This wouldn't be important but for the well-known tendency of agitators to jump on manufacturers as inflation scapegoats and to smile sweetly at all times in the direction of farmers who have votes.

All over the country there is an endless supply of statistics to meet the demand of human beings trying to prove something. There is a statistic for every need and purpose. On the average statistics are worth 103 cents a dozen which is 27 per cent more than the going rate in 1939 or roughly 33 1/3 per cent more than they're real value measured in terms of real income. Nine times out of ten they conceal more than they reveal and have no other reason for existence—on the average.

Mrs. Roosevelt Too

THE conscience-clearing about the smear campaign which Democrats carried on against Herbert Hoover throughout his presidency now claims an especially important convert. Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt.

She has written the following in her newspaper column:

"If only we can avoid a repetition of the depression that culminated in Mr. Hoover's administration we will be very fortunate. This depression of course had nothing to do with President Hoover's policies and was the result of after war activities in this country which I feel can't be duplicated again unless the people and the congress are very wary.

"Perhaps Mrs. Roosevelt never believed the political lie so diligently spread through the country that Mr. Hoover was personally responsible for the depression. In any event it is a matter for her to take up with Judge what obviously was forgiven and forgotten now that the country pushed Democrats into the depression despite everything Mr. Hoover tried to do.

He was handicapped not only by his opponents in politics but by the opponents in the bulk of organized business and by members of the Republican party who were Democrats. Some were persons who had an interest at all—persons who merely were out on making a financial killing at any time including the welfare of the United States.

The lineup 20 years later is not the same. As it was in 1928 the United States is in a giddy money boom. Skeptics are being hooted down by those who think the boom can go on forever, who think high money wages and high money income for farmers are sufficient unto themselves disregarding what inflation is doing to the economy as a whole.

Three-quarters of Canada's population lives in a strip averaging 200 miles wide along the U S border.

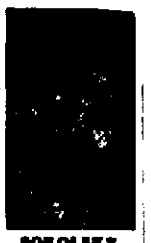
Scanning the Record

By George E. Sokolsky

The President vs. Congress

THE powers of the president of the United States are enormous. Although the authority of the Congress weighs heavily upon the powers by various acts, still basically the authority of the president is as it has been for 16 years expanded in that he can be described as the most powerful ruler in the world. This expansion has been generated by the wars and a series of emergencies in between.

Heretofore presidents have restricted themselves in the use of their powers, recognizing the system which is that policy of government is determined by the congress while the administration is the force of the president. Not one of them not even Franklin D. Roosevelt ever used all his powers to promote his personal political fortune. Roosevelt at times did during his early years but only occasionally but got that at such a time he was a candidate as well as a president.



SOKOLSKY

Purpose of Session

Harry Truman has called the present special session of congress only for the purpose of embarrassing his opponent Thomas E. Dewey. Obviously, Dewey cannot control the 80th congress, which is only adequately Republican in the house of representatives. In the senate the Republicans have only a nominal majority for organizational purposes. Actually that majority often sunk to so low a figure that Republican leadership had to depend on Democrats to put their program through. Until Governor Dewey is elected president, his influence over the Republican members of congress must be nil.

As a matter of practice no party ever controls either house of congress unless it can pass measures over the president's veto. Every bill that was passed over Harry Truman's veto was passed by a large quota of Democratic votes. Harry Truman knows that just as Herbert Hoover knew how weak the presidency can be with a president of one party and a congress of another.

Hardly Statesmanlike

Yet Truman has devoted himself to the demonstration of the 80th congress as the worst American party which has ever existed. American party which Harry Truman may one day have to face. A party he has never had a chance to work with congress to do what it has refused to do for two years namely to carry through Harry Truman's famous program which can save the economy of the United States. In a word he considers the worst congress to carry out his worst program.

Neither Truman nor any of his advisers want congress to pass his program. They don't know what to do with such a program or where to get the money to carry it through. Their whole administration is based on a relationship to congress to satisfy every pressure group but not to serve America.

Yet it has tremendous political value. Neither the Democratic nor the Republican party is prepared to let the pressure groups be turned free. They therefore play on the fringes of the impossible. So Harry Truman does the best he can. He says that they are the party of betraying the interests of every special group. Negroes, veterans, farmers, labor leaders, Zionists, anti-Zionists, anyone you can think of. If they do, dollars will become unstable and he will accuse the 80th congress of causing the United States to go down the way he will put the responsibility on Tom Dewey who having no direct power [illegible] cannot [illegible] every [illegible] levels.

No Help to Country

So that is the trick and a cheap trick one it is. Nothing beneficial for the country will be accomplished by it. In fact in the face of a cold war a general election places heavy spiritual burdens upon the country and imposes the threat of administrative difficult. Truman at such a time by his conduct of his office and by his relations to congress makes it impossible for the country to meet the issues of the cold war.

Truman is driven to this course by his fear of Henry Wallace who has become a ghastly complex in his life. If Wallace has done this country no other harm he has wrought this on his psychological effect upon its President.

Urges German Peace First

By Walter Lippmann

IN diplomacy as in war there is no more difficult operation than that which Secretary Marshall is now facing namely, to alter his strategical plan while deeply and dangerously engaged. But it is evident that in order to stay in Berlin without going to war he must resume four-power negotiations about Germany. This means that the three-power agreements which were signed in London at the beginning of June will have to be renegotiated with the Russians.

While this is a very considerable diplomatic success for Mr. Molotov it is not nearly so complete as it will look if we persist in ignoring the Warsaw declaration of June 24 on Soviet and satellite policy about Germany. The fact is that the Soviet position has been greatly modified since the meeting of the council of foreign ministers in London last autumn. A year ago Mr. Molotov was not talking about the quick conclusion of a peace treaty with Germany and an end to the occupation regime. He was talking about a long and indefinite occupation and it was this determination of the Russians to stay in Germany which justified new administrative arrangements, though not the creation of a German state in western Germany.

LIPPMANN

Therefore in agreeing to resume four-power negotiations we are not starting all over again where we left off when the previous negotiations became hopelessly deadlocked. What we were trying to do then and failing altogether was to reach agreements by which the four powers would withdraw their occupying Germany for many years to come.

No such agreement is possible. Four powers even if they have occupied with one will not collaborate to govern the Germans or any other large nation even one small nation. Three powers could do it. The powers would not.

Only Temporary

The fundamental fact is that a military government can only be temporary. It is of all political arrangements most subject to the law of diminishing returns.

We are not only concerned here perhaps even [illegible] that the four powers have in how to [illegible] to govern [illegible] them in the [illegible] who [illegible] laborate. That is the reason why an irresolvable [illegible] The problem therefore is how to make a settlement which terminates the occupation and liquidates the [illegible] in the least savage [illegible] of Europe and [illegible].

The heart of that problem is quite evidently what kind of [illegible] there is to be [illegible] when the occupying powers leave. Of the four proposals in the Warsaw declaration by all odds the most important and content is the third which calls for the establishment [illegible] of a provisional democratic peace-loving government for the whole of Germany."

For there is no prospect of the four powers agreeing on such a government. What would satisfy Mr. Molotov, we should regard as a German government certain to be captured by the Communists and to be oriented with the Soviet Union. What would satisfy us, the Russians and the eastern governments would regard as a Germany made a satellite of the West.

If therefore we resume negotiations with the idea that we must agree on a government for the whole of Germany we shall again become hopelessly deadlocked.

But why in all seriousness must there be a government for the whole of Germany before we can agree on a German settlement which fixes the German frontiers, sets down the things which Germany is forbidden to do and the obligations which she must meet?

There is no all-German government today and under military occupation no genuine German government can be established. It cannot be established because the four powers cannot agree. And if they could agree it would be merely a government imposed by the victors and therefore certain to be overthrown as soon as the victors withdrew their armies. Therefore, it is the part of wisdom I contend to abandon the idea that an all-German government must be established before a peace settlement is made.

A Way Out

It will be said that unless there is an all German government the west will be no German authority to take over when we leave. In my view the Allies could make a declaration of the aims of peace—dealing with frontiers demilitarization reparations and other stipulations and then restore to the German states several [illegible] Germans. After that the Germans could be left with the [illegible] of their own constitutional development.

Claims Biggest State

By The Associated Press

ANACONDA, Mont.—Jack C. Ott, Shelby cattleman and Montana booster, expressed belief Monday state is the nation's largest instead of being third largest as the books say.

Here's the way he argues:

Many persons have the idea that Texas is the largest state. That is a mistake at the outset because Texas has been preaching that propaganda for years. Second people haven't stopped to think that much of Montana's standing unused.

"Iron out the Rockies and Montana would exceed any other state in size."

The New Delegate

From News of Other Years

TEN YEARS AGO

It was Wednesday July 27 1938.

With the team a game and a half behind the New York Yankees Cyril C. Slapnicka, scout man in the Cleveland Indians front office predicted the Indians would win the American league pennant. New York captured the league pennant and also the World Series.

William C. Reisner 54 highway supervisor for Chatfield township Crawford county was killed when a barrel of tar exploded while he was preparing a road mixture at the rear of the township hall in Chatfield.

A group of young matrons and misses who had not been together since their Harding High school days together with their mothers, were luncheon guests of Mrs. Woodrow Frost of East Washington avenue. The party included Mrs. Ralph Watts of Cincinnati, Mrs. Robert Clevenger of Youngstown, Mrs. George Patterson of Elyria, Miss Mary Williams of Cleveland, Miss Florence Sweney of Columbus, Mrs. J. G. McNamara, Mrs. Oscar Tusch, Mrs. Charles Cox, Mrs. Emil Sweney, Mrs. Carrie McGee, Mrs. George Landon Jr. and Miss Violet Landon.

Plans to convert the old Delaware county fairgrounds near Powell into a racing center and training headquarters for horses were announced by O. L. Grace, Columbus school teacher, who purchased the fairgrounds at a public sale for $2,500. The property included a half-mile dirt track, a grand stand with 400 seating capacity and 70 box stalls. There were numerous other buildings on the 30 acres.

TWENTY YEARS AGO

It was Friday July 27 1928.

Miss Dorothy Strawser of North Seffner avenue left on a trip to Yellowstone National park and other points in the west.

Mrs. John Ruth and daughter Jane of Bain avenue left for a stay of several days at Lakewood on Lake Erie.

L. B. Fidler of Waldo was re-elected president of the vocational agriculture instructors of Marion county at a meeting of the group held at the office of C. B. Rayburn, county superintendent of schools on West Center street.

A daughter, Mary Catherine, was born at the City hospital to Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Lawrence of San Francisco. Calif. Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence have been visiting at the home of Mr. Lawrence's parents Mr. and Mrs. D. F. Lawrence on Avondale avenue.

Mrs. William F. Kraus, formerly Miss Helen Markert, was complimented with a dinner bridge at Hotel Harding by members of the I. M. S. club.

Members of the Mayflower club were entertained by Mrs. J. F. Jacobs at her home on Kenmore avenue.

Plaque for Roosevelt

By The Associated Press

LONDON, Eng.—[illegible] which [illegible] Roosevelt [illegible] a foreign statesman honored by burial in Westminster Abbey are to be executed by Sculptor H. W. Palmer. The design by C. Terry Pilcher, ministry of works architect, will be an American eagle carved out of Hopton Wood stone, a form of marble. The carved inscription in Roman lettering which was suggested jointly by Winston Churchill and Prime Minister Attlee, is a secret.

The Roosevelt tribute, the last remaining [illegible] Abbey walls, stands above the roll of honor of civilian casualties in the last war in a section between the great west door and St. George's Chapel.

Third Party and Geography

By Hal Boyle

PHILADELPHIA.—TO PUT the Progressive party's birthplace in proper perspective is perhaps pertinent to point out a geographical fact.

The city of brotherly love is only one hour and a half by train from New York City.

How much does that explain the new party's impressive vigor?

In Manhattan at any major rally the Communist party and fellow-traveling crowd Madison Square Garden with 20,000 people.

HAL BOYLE

This is important to remember because veteran political observers expressed amazement at the fact Henry Wallace and Sen. Glen Taylor, his vice running mate, drew more than 30,000 lovers of a new political music to their doubleheader at Shibe Baseball park last Saturday night.

Babe Ruth in his prime hardly did better. But the campaign will reveal whether the Progressive party has astonishing popular strength—or merely was born in a town where all the relatives could get there in time for the baptism.

If the Progressive party could draw 30,000 people to a rally in Kansas City, St. Louis, Cleveland or San Francisco there would be no doubt that it represented a powerful cross section of American discontent.

Advantageous Location

But it could have picked no more strategic birthplace than Philadelphia—one of the nation's largest cities and easily accessible from New York, Baltimore and Washington.

This makes it hard to judge whether the huge attendance was chiefly due to an all-out effort by Communist and Communist-front organizations or whether it was a spontaneous outpouring of people dissatisfied with the two major political parties.

But the campaign will quickly show whether the strength of Wallace who disavowed no support by anyone sincerely interested in peace is largely based on the Communists.

In what way? By the attendance at Wallace rallies. Only in the eastern and some western seaboard cities can the Communist-dominated Progressives draw national impact of the Progressive party can be more accurately determined by the people who attend its meetings.

Factor of Distance

Ten or fifteen thousand Communist party members or fellow travelers might buy a round-trip coach ticket from New York to Philadelphia. But they won't and can't afford to buy one from New York to Kansas City or Denver.

Regardless of the source of its main power the Progressive party has a special attraction in American politics. It claims to be a people's party—what party ever didn't? But it acts like a people's party.

It had representatives of 19 different melting pot nationalities here, and it courted them all. It came out for independence for Puerto Rico and against partition of Ireland. It didn't quite oppose partition in Palestine. It did favor freeing the American Indian—without reservation.

As de from its appeal to most racial minorities the founding convention of the Progressive party was noteworthy for the politicking as fervor of its delegates. They felt they were engaged more in a crusade than a campaign. And they had more fun than people are supposed to have in politics.

"A waitress told me we ate five times as many hot dogs as the Republicans did," said a proud delegate in convention hall.

The Progressive party is hungry for victory, too.

What's Your Car Color?

By The Associated Press

BALTIMORE—The color you choose for your car gives an inkling of your character a nation-wide survey made by three automobile associations purports to show. That is of you're lucky enough to be able to decide what color car you want.

According to the color poll "intellectual people prefer blue athletes red egotists yellow, and extroverts orange."

The poll was conducted by members of the Used Car Dealers association the Automobile Manufacturers association and the National Automobile Dealers association.

The survey also shows that color preferences vary by regions. In the southwest vivid colors are preferred. On the Pacific coast, light pastel tints are chosen. In New England subdued blues maroons greens and grays are favorites.

Cotton Corners

By TRUMAN TWILL

Dear Nephew: We are now entering the reunion season and I am looking forward to it with relish—I am, if you please. That's what your aunt's cave takes to reunions.

The reunion [illegible] on the skids and [illegible] be a setback to what we [illegible] new spirit of [illegible] civilization. When reunions were at their [illegible] there was no more [illegible] people [illegible] be found anywhere.

Never will I forget the reunion [illegible] used to put on when I was a [illegible] boy. There would be as many as 150 people present, many on the farm of one of the [illegible] tribesmen. Tables would be set under the trees or if it rained they'd be moved inside to the barn floor of one of the big bank barns that formerly were universal in this part of the country.

The reunions were a curious combination of politics and reverence. On one hand there would be the sports events—ball games, horseshoe pitching, what have you, and on the other hand would be the prayers, the resolutions of respect for the deceased and the annual report of the secretary covering all events of importance in the clan for the preceding year.

The [illegible] were an [illegible] the real purpose of the gathering, which was to do away with the finest food ever prepared by human hands in the United States. TELEPHONE GADGET A BOON TO LOVERS

By The Associated Press

HARRISBURG, Pa., July 27—Forgetful husbands and lovers wishing to recall precisely the sweet nothings whispered into their ears soon will get some help from the telephone company.

Starting Aug. 2 a limited number of subscribers may obtain from the Bell Telephone company of Pennsylvania a little gadget officially described as a "recorder connector with an automatic tone signal."

By means of this device, any telephone user paying the $5 initial charge and $2 monthly fee may have a permanent record of telephone messages.

Housewives, for instance, can rest assured that the shopping orders phoned to hubby at the office will be carried out down to the last spool of thread.

And the swain forced to leave town for a few days can leave behind a record of his love for his sweetheart to consider in his absence.

Every regular telephone line to which a voice recorder has been connected will have attached also the tone signal—which will emit a "beep" every 12 seconds.

This will serve as a warning to all callers that their conversations are being recorded.

for several hours yesterday for preliminary examination before a justice of the peace on a charge of shooting to kill Sgt. L. D. Conn. The hearing was postponed until Aug. 5, and Daniels was returned to Celina.

It appeared that none of the counties seeking Daniels custody—Franklin, Richland and Seneca, would get Daniels until the condition of Sgt. Conn becomes clear. The sergeant was wounded in a gun battle during which West was killed and Daniels captured near Van Wert.

To Make Decision

Sheriff F. Roy Shaffer said he would hold Daniels until it is determined that Sgt. Conn will recover. Then he will call a conference of prosecuting attorneys of the three counties and decide which will prosecute him.

Richland county wants Daniels for the murder of John Niebel, Mansfield reformatory farm superintendent; his wife, Nolanda, and daughter Phyllis. Seneca county wants him for the murder of James Smith, a farmer, and Orville Taylor driver of a truck in which West and Daniels attempted to escape.

"GIFT HOME" GIVEN TO REICHERT SISTERS

Fire and Police Chiefs Turn Over Keys to House.

At last the Misses Christine and Dorothy Reichert have a real home, all of their own.

In a brief ceremony last night at Central fire station the Reichert sisters were presented the keys to the shining new two room "gift house" by the men who made it a reality, Fire Chief Owen A. Sifritt and Police Chief William E. Marks, with city firemen, many of whom helped build the house, looking on.

In the presentation Chief Sifritt said, "On behalf of Chief Marks, the boys of the fire department, and myself, I wish to thank the people of Marion and vicinity who opened their hearts and donated money, labor, building materials and services. I wish especially to thank R. M. Miller of Park street, a retired city fireman, who took the place of our good friend Francis Mullins, who died before the job was finished. Too much praise can not be given to the memory of Francis Mullins who kept hard at work at this project even though he knew his health would never stand the strain. He was a good man with a generous nature."

The two room "gift house" a project conceived by Chiefs Sifritt and Marks after the Reichert sisters humble home on North State street was burned last spring, injuring Miss Dorothy Reichert, was completed late last week. All funds, labor, and materials used to build it were donated in response to public press and radio appeals by the two chiefs. Value of the materials of the new home, located on the Reichert sisters lot on North State street, was set at $2300. The home measures 12 ft. by feet and has a concrete and block foundation with a wooden frame and exterior and an asphalt roof.

The jarrah tree of Western Australia is so fire-resistant that it has been used in place of brick or stone in chimneys and fireplaces. It also is used under conditions where steel would buckle because of heat.

By The Associated Press

PARIS July 27—Premier Andre Marie formed a new French coalition cabinet and today presented its members to President Vincent Auriol

Like his predecessor, the new cabinet contains no Communists It is made up of members of parties who favor the cause of the Western allies

The new government contained one major change from the eight cabinets France has had in the past three years Georges Bidault has been dropped as foreign minister standards of living, based on increasing productivity and a fair distribution of income is the American way Non-inflationary wage increases can and should continue to be made by free collective bargaining"

TRUMAN

Calls 8 Points Necessary

As for his entire eight-point cost of living program, Mr Truman called it a "balanced" way to attack high prices All eight points, he said, are "necessary to check rising prices and safeguard our economy against the danger of depression"

Aside from his reference to Communists here and abroad counting on an American depression, Mr Truman made no direct reference to this country's strained relations with Russia

But he did assert that:

"In these tense days, when our strength is being tested all over the world, it would be reckless folly if we failed to act against inflation"

The President devoted only a single paragraph in his 3,000-word address to "urge upon congress" the controversial civil rights program he sent to Capitol Hill last February

He did not specify priority for any of the proposals but a "score card" made public at the White House yesterday placed emphasis on anti-poll tax and anti-lynching bills on which hearings already have been held

The civil rights proposals, Mr Truman said, "are necessary to carry out the American ideals of liberty and justice for all"

The President signed executive orders late yesterday establishing a fair employment practice policy for federal employes and calling for an end to racial discriminations in the armed services

Other Requests

As he had said he would the Chief Executive also asked the special session for:

▶A new displaced persons bill to provide for the admission of some 400,000 of Europe's war refugees into this country during the next four years, instead of 202,000 in two years as provided in a bill passed at the last session He asked that congress wipe out "discriminations" in the current law. He has said it would operate unfairly against Jewish and Catholic displaced persons

▶A federal-aid-to-education bill to provide $300,000,000 annually to states for education

▶Approval of a $65,000,000 loan for the construction of a permanent United Nations headquarters in New York City.

▶Senate ratification of the international wheat agreement He said this would guarantee American farmers an annual export market of 185,000,000 bushels of wheat at a fair price (a maximum of $2 a bushel) during the next five years.

▶Restoration of $58,000,000 trimmed from proposed appropriations at the last session for power and reclamation projects including a Tennessee Valley Authority steam generating plant at New Johnsonville, Tenn

▶A more equitable and realistic pay bill for federal employes

▶A bill raising the present 40 cent minimum wage to at least 75 cents an hour

▶Legislation increasing by at least 50 per cent the benefits under the old-age retirement provisions of the social security law He said the age at which women can receive benefits should be lowered from 65 to 60 years, and he again asked extension of coverage to groups not now included.

Urges Action on Prices

The President took note of the GOP cry of "politics" that went up in response to his special session call

High prices he said, "are not taking time off for the election

High prices are not waiting until the next session of the congress

"High prices are getting worse every day

We can not afford to wait for the next congress to act"

He said the cost of living "is now higher than ever before in our history"

The program the President submitted varied only in minor respects from the one he submitted to another special session of this congress eight months ago He said it has been "revised and strengthened in the light of changing circumstances"

In the category of "other problems of great moment which vitally affect the welfare of the nation," Mr Truman listed

"A comprehensive health program, based on health insurance,

"A fair and sound labor-management relations law—in place of the Taft-Hartley act which has proved to be unfair and unsound and which should be repealed.

"A real long-range farm program,

"A strong reciprocal trade agreements act

"A universal training program,

"A national science foundation,

"Strengthened anti-trust laws, and

"Approval of the St Lawrence waterway treaty"

Mr Truman said the purposes and limited time of the special session "do not readily permit action" on those measures

"However," he added, "if the congress finds time to enact any of them now the country will greatly benefit. Certainly, the next congress should take them up immediately"

IMMEDIATE CONTROL OVER PRICES ASKED

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, July 27—A demand for immediate—rather than standby—price controls marks the major difference between President Truman's new cost of living program and the one he submitted to another special session last Nov 17

The President added one anti-inflation step today—an excess profits tax But while he did not request it in November, he included it in a later message to congress

Mr Truman dropped four of the demands he made of congress in November They called for

Strong and wider export controls, greater government authority over distribution of transportation, more efficient marketing of livestock and poultry to save grain and an expanded conservation program plus steps to help foreign nations boost food production

These steps were asked in much the same form in both messages

Authority to control wages whenever they threaten to limit production or boost prices

Regulation of bank and consumer credit.

Government control over speculation of commodities exchanges

Tougher rent controls

Standby authority to ration scarce products which affect the public welfare

Allocation and inventory controls over scarce and vital commodities

M'GREGOR DEMANDS INQUIRY ABOUT DAM

Says Delaware County Village May Be Wiped Out.

By The United Press

WASHINGTON July 27—Rep J Harry McGregor (R) of Ohio, demanded today that a thorough investigation be made to determine the necessity for Hoover dam near Columbus, O, before actual work is begun.

The West Lafayette representative charged that congress put the "cart before the horse" when it appropriated $600,000 for a start on the dam without first determining its necessity

Rep McGregor said the project may require the removal of the entire village of Galena in Delaware county, a part of his district In addition, he claimed, the Delaware county tax rate is increasing because so much of its area is being assigned for flood control projects

Although the dam itself will be located in northeast Franklin county most of the land needed for the vast reservoir is in Delaware county

Rep McGregor made his statements after Army engineers scheduled a public hearing on the project for Aug 17 in Columbus city hall The announcement, made by Col A M Neilson, district Army engineer with headquarters in Huntington, W Va, said the hearing was called to determine "desires of local interest relative to the features to be incorporated in the authorized project"

"I am not saying I am opposed to the project" Rep McGregor said. "But I do not agree with the policy of having public hearings after funds are requested of congress In this case the hearing was not scheduled until after the $600,000 was appropriated"

Chairman Allen (R-Ill) of the house rules committee which has bottled up the Taft-Ellender-Wagner long range housing bill asked by Mr Truman, said he hopes congress can adjourn in two weeks

Rep Clarence Brown (R-Ohio), who managed Senator Taft's campaign for the Republican presidential nomination,

"Many of the President's proposals do not pertain to matters of any emergency nature.

"Some are worthy of consideration Others, however, which propose a return to the same system of government controls, rationing and regimentation which proved such an utter failure during and after the end of the war as to cause the people to demand and a Democratic congress and President Truman himself to abandon it, are not the answer to our present problem of high prices"

The plant normally employs around 850 workers

The plant reopened yesterday under heavy police guard In a National Labor Relations Board election last Friday the workers voted 302 to 272 not to retain the union, local 768 of the CIO United Electrical Workers as bargaining agent

The employes entered the plant today after a police detail of 93 officers under direct command of Police Chief Rudy Wurstmer spirited a 200-man picket line in half at the front entrance

Nine policemen lined each side of the corridor as non strikers hurried into the plant Picketing continued on each side of the police-formed wedge

Pickets arrested included four men and three women who gave Dayton addresses but police said some of them were from out of town They were held at Central police station without charge

Violence first flared at 7 30 a m after police set up the corridor through the picket line Ten pickets left the line and formed a group across the street One of them then raced 40 feet from the group and unloosed a terrific swing police said A returning worker who did not see the blow coming was knocked down Police cornered the picket and rushed him away

A minute later, Police Capt Paul Price yelled get him as another picket raced toward the police corridor The picket was nabbed and hauled away

The company had set next Thursday as a deadline for employes to return to work

The word turnpike originated from the early American custom of blocking toll roads with pikes or poles—when the toll was paid the pikes were turned aside

In Plain Words

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON

DON'T expect the Republican controlled congress to do much that President Truman recommends today

He's offering congress an 11-point program on things he says needs to be done for the country's welfare

They range from what he considers way for controlling inflation and providing housing to voting a $65 000 000 loan to build a home for the United Nations in New York

Of all his recommendations the one that probably stands the best chance of being carried out is the $65 000 000 UN loan

James Marlow

The Republicans are burned up at him

Here at the beginning of the political campaign with elections coming up in November he's called the Republican-controlled congress back into special session

Since he says his program is what the country needs this puts the congress on the spot of doing what he says or not doing it but if it doesn't do it the Republicans will have to explain why to the voters

One important Republican congressman he doesn't want his name mentioned said

"Look at what the President's doing He comes up before a special session of congress He called the session And we have to sit and listen to him make a speech

"It's a campaign speech And he makes it in front of the television cameras and over the radio

"What a political platform that is And at our expense This talk to congress is a wonderful opening for his own campaign for reelection"

THE MAIN POINT in Mr Truman's message to congress today is the cost of living

And it is that problem of the cost of living—it's now at its highest level in American history—which is causing the Republicans the most concern

If they do nothing to control it at this special session—and if prices continue to rise between now and November's elections—it probably will cost them votes

The same Republican said on this point

"But how are you going to pass a law at this time to cut down prices"

He didn't go into the problem of trying to keep prices from going higher than they are now

But he said hopefully I think prices will start to come down by November

THE REPUBLICAN high command in congress—in house and senate hasn't said publicly what it intends to do about Mr Truman's program, and doesn't intend to say until it has had a chance to examine the message and talk it over

But the mood of the Republicans or at least some of them was shown pretty well yesterday when congress reopened for a short time and adjourned until today

Rep Frederick C Smith Marion O Republican said that as soon as Mr Truman delivered his message today congress ought to quit for the year

In fact, Smith introduced a resolution to adjourn right after Mr Truman's talk Before that could happen both houses of congress would have to approve That's unlikely

And Rep Bender another Ohio Republican, blamed present high prices on 16 years of Democratic rule He summed up his message before he heard it He said

"All we'll hear is a campaign speech"

"I don't bet on this but between now and election time I think you're going to see little action but hear a lot of talk from both sides The Democrats and Republicans blaming each other for the high cost of living

SNIPER KILLS LEADER OF ILLINOIS GANG

By The United Press

PEORIA Ill July 27 — The sniper who fatally wounded Bernard (Bernie) Shelton boldly followed the ambulance to make certain his bullet had struck the notorious southern Illinois gang leader police believed today

Shelton 50 was killed just nine months after his elder brother Carl was slain from ambush at his farm near Fairfield Ill

Bernard was cut down by a single rifle bullet before his saloon near here On a hillside 150 yards away authorities found a big game rifle and a discharged shell

Footprints indicated that the assassin drove away in a green car that had parked in a hilltop cemetery

Ambulance attendant Earl Stevens told police that a green car followed the ambulance which brought Shelton here

Stevens said Shelton became distraught when he saw the car He tried to roll off the cot onto the ambulance floor The green car followed for a short distance and then disappeared

Shelton died within a half hour

Today Shelton's aged mother Mrs Agnes Shelton 84 was preparing to bury him as she buried Carl last year She has maintained that "they were good boys even during their full scale war with Charley Birger, a rival bootlegger

Shelton will be buried Thursday at Park View cemetery here

His death left only three of five Shelton brothers living Those surviving are Earl Roy and Delta all prosperous farmers who apparently were never connected with the widespread—and fantastic—underworld activities of their brothers

Goose too, is Birger he was hanged 20 years ago for the murder of Mayor Joe Adams of Herrin City Ill

Authorities said today that the deaths of Carl and Bernard have "very broken the back" of the Shelton mob

COLUMBUS, O., July 27 — Measures passed by the recent special session of the legislature have been signed by the presiding officers of the assembly and sent to Gov. Herbert.

The first signing bouquets to the special session were made yesterday.

The major enactment—a bill eliminating the first one per cent bracket of the sales tax—was signed in the house by Speaker C. William O'Neill.

The bill, which provides $12,000,000 from the total sales tax collections, becomes effective immediately after the governor's signature. The measure will remain on his desk for signing shortly before midnight July 31 and will become effective Aug. 1.

Speaker Pro Tem Paul McCormack signed the companion use tax bill eliminating the one cent tax on out-of-state purchases under 41 cents. It too will be signed before midnight July 31.

Lt. Gov. Paul M. Herbert signed these other bills:

A flat $5 a month boost in old age pension awards and a bill to appropriate $48,350,000 to the state welfare department.

COUNCIL

Jenkins Second ward the street and alley committee, and the safety service director for investigation.

Councilman Clarence H. Sanden Sixth ward, reported the joint opinion of the utility and finance committees of council did not indicate the employment of investigators to check on bus conditions here was advisable. The belief of the committees is the public should be relied upon to report bus discrepancies of any kind to council and save the taxpayers money.

While on the sewer question council also approved the construction of sanitary and storm water sewers on Fairfield street from Main street east to house No. 271, distance 1,250 feet, sanitary and storm sewer on Hazen street from Main to State, on State street from a point approximately 200 feet north of Fairground to a point about 120 feet south of Fairview street, on Harrison street from State street to the east terminus. All land abutting or bounding any of these sewers or benefited by them is to be assessed all but one fiftieth of the cost on a front foot assessment rate, payable in 30 days or in five annual installments.

To Improve Street

Council voted to improve London street and a north and south alley between Prospect street and Oak street from London street south to the first east and west alley by paving the roadways with a substantial paving material.

Council also voted to authorize the city engineer to prepare plans for the macadam pavement of Darlington court from McKinley street to Foster Lane.

Mrs. Mayme Gorton, city clerk, read revised legislation required for the purchase of the new $27,000 aerial ladder fire truck. Harold Robinson, councilman-at-large stated that as the cost of a new fire truck $27,000, represented a large outlay of the taxpayers money by council he would like to have Fire Chief Owen A. Sifritt come before council and state the condition of the old aerial truck and the need for a new one. Summoned by Mayor Dowler, Chief Sifritt stated the case for his department.

Said Chief Sifritt, "The present ladder truck now in service was purchased in 1916. The aerial ladder part of the truck is now in such a state that it requires manual help to raise the ladder. The metal of the truck itself is crystallized with age. The ladders and their rungs are loose and worn with age. We of the department are afraid of it. The need of a new truck is urgent. I have reported the truck unsafe for the last four years, and during that time it has been used only on limited duty in the downtown area and at industrial fires. A man takes his life in his own hands each time he mounts that aerial ladder and I have forbidden firemen to climb it unless absolutely necessary. The side arms of the ladder have dry rotted. We now have taller buildings in Marion. Any height over 50 feet requires use of an aerial ladder truck. This truck has been used in from 20 to 25 serious fires. A new truck is required both by needs of safety and by fire underwriters. The underwriters who figure our fire insurance rates do not say we have to purchase a new aerial truck, they just raise our rates according to the increasingly poor condition of the one we have. The one we now have is 32 years old."

Motion To Buy

Councilman Miller Fifth ward, moved the new truck be purchased and Councilman Biggert, Fourth ward, seconded the motion. The ordinance for purchase of the new truck and issue of bonds to pay for it both passed unanimously.

Council voted $50 from the general fund for the solicitor's stationery fund, $100 for the payment of the assistant municipal judge, $257.80 for the city's assessment for cleaning of the Rock Swale ditch bounding the municipal airport, and voted to transfer $8,500 from the gas tax fund to the material fund.

The plant was reopened after an 83-day strike called by the CIO-United Electrical Workers Union still unsettled.

KILLER OF 6 IN OHIO CRIME WAVE BURIED

By International News Service

PARKERSBURG, W. Va., July 27—A kindly earth hid the body of killer ex-convict John Coulter West today as it hides the bodies of saints and sinners alike.

West, shot between the eyes by a police officer near Van Wert, O., to end a two-week murder spree that counted six innocent victims, was buried quietly in Mt. Olivet cemetery in Parkersburg.

Rev. Dr. Logan Martin, pastor of the First Christian church, said a month ago that the paroled, 23-year-old ex-convict was "going the right way."

West had attended Dr. Martin's church following his parole last March 31 from the Mansfield, O., Reformatory. That was before West and Robert Muri Daniels, 34, now in custody at Celina, started their two-week crime wave.

Dr. Martin said beforehand that he was "heartbroken" that the funeral assignment had been given to him. At the services in the Vaughn funeral home, he said:

"We are all gathered here as a consequence of crime. We all recognize the severity of crime and the untold sufferings it brings to others and ourselves."

A fair-sized crowd stood in and outside the funeral home during the services. Hundreds viewed the body in the two days before the services.

Ohio-Indiana Loop All-Stars Meet Leading Muncie Tonight

By The Associated Press

MUNCIE, Ind., July 27—The Ohio-Indiana baseball league's annual classic—a game between the All Stars and the league leaders, will be played here tonight with the Muncie Reds as host team.

There will be some changes in previously announced lineups due to suspension and resignation, Frank M. Colley league president announced last night.

He said he had given Newark Manager Boo Dill an indefinite suspension, and barred him from participation in the All-Star game. Dill was to have been a first base coach for the All Stars.

Colley said Dill used abusive and threatening language against umpires Staley and McClintock after Sunday night's game in Newark, and had "invaded their dressing rooms to continue his tirade."

Pilot Ollie Byers of Richmond will manage the All-Stars in place of Bob Roth who has resigned as Springfield manager.

It appeared likely that Joe Greco of Springfield would start on the mound for the All-Stars, and Larry Miller for Muncie.

Other All-Star players, subject to changes league officials said would be John Pulcini, Zanesville first base; Frank Major, Portsmouth second base; Art Oliver Richmond, third base; Joe Eschoo, Newark, shortstop; George Staller, Portsmouth outfielder, Ray Burns, Springfield and Carl Raucher Lima outfielders, Tom Gaits of Marion catcher.

Other All-Star pitchers include Manager Ray Hathaway of Zanesville, Nick Alivojvodic Marion, Bob Davis, Portsmouth and Jim Herndon, Richmond.

For Muncie at first base will be Carl Bush; Joe Sutton second base; Art Wilson, shortstop; Gene Dartt, Arnold Davis and Frank Santura outfielders, and Bob Nieman catcher. Pitcher Ray Trava also is expected to see action.

There were only two games in the league last night. Richmond handed Muncie a 13-8 trouncing, and Marion defeated Lima 6-1.

Because of the All-Star game, there will be no other games in the league tonight.

STRANAHAN TIES 2 FOR OHIO OPEN LEAD

By The Associated Press

TOLEDO (AP) July 27—Frankie Stranahan, Toledo British and Canadian amateur champion, seems a bit serious about adding the Ohio open title to his list of golf crowns.

Stranahan was deadlocked for the lead as a field of 163 including 74 sumon-pures wheeled into today's second round over Sylvania's rugged course where par proved an elusive thing in yesterday's opening 18 holes.

The Toledo hot-shot paced two strokes off par yesterday with a scintillating 70 to tie Ted Huge, 43-year-old Clevelander, and Johnny Malutic, an unattached veteran from Youngstown, in the pace-setting role.

But unsatisfied with some of his iron shot in the round which produced 16 pars and two birdies, Stranahan went straight to the practice tee after his round and was still there when darkness fell.

The youngster had a flock of talent to shake off however before laying claim to the state title which is 54 holes away.

Right behind the torrid trio is Phil Perkins, the veteran Cleveland star who won the British amateur in 1927, the Ohio open in 1937. He carved out a fine 71 yesterday.

Plenty of threats were just another stroke back of par 72, in position to move into the payoff spot should anyone falter. Among them were a pair of three-time winners of the Ohio title—Denny Shute of Akron and Billy Burke of Cleveland, both well-tempered in tournament tactics.

Deadlocked with the two ex-champs are Jack Stoddard of Bucyrus, Charles Wipperman of Kent, Dick Willowell of Dayton, and two public links amateurs, Johnny Nowack of Cleveland and Bobby Kay of Toledo.

One thing appears certain—no one is going to tear this heavily treed and trapped layout apart for its narrow fairways demand accuracy all the way and its 6700 yards provide a real test.

HEIDELBERG COACH

TIFFIN, O., July 27—Ben Wilson of Dover, O., has been named freshman football coach at Heidelberg college to succeed John Spezzaferro of Cleveland. He also will serve as assistant dean of men, it was announced by college officials yesterday.

MILLS SURPRISES GUS LESNEVICH

By The Associated Press

LONDON, July 27—Ring-scarred Gus Lesnevich sails for home Friday minus the world light heavyweight championship and his once high hopes of fighting for the heavyweight crown.

Freddie Mills, beefy boxed Briton scrambled (illegible) last night in a surprise upset. The former carnival clouter won the 175-pound crown with a 15-round decision before the largest crowd ever to see a fight in England, 46,000.

The fight grossed around $900,000.

Lesnevich twice ganged to the canvas and left with ugly gashes around both eyes immediately announced he was discarding his heavyweight aspirations in favor of another shot at Mills.

Gus' manager Joe Vella said he had a contract for a return bout with the 29 year old Briton.

Lesnevich scored a tenth round knockout over Mills in 1946.

This time however he failed to pack the same authority in his fists after taking off some ten pounds to make weight. He barely squeaked in at 174¾, while Mills weighed 170½.

Lesnevich rushed Mills in the first round but Freddie landed a right hook that cut the champ's left eye and brought blood. Lesnevich's other eyes was soon goshed and the American from that point on seemed unable to grab command of the situation.

Freddie exploded what had been a dull show in the tenth round. He spun Gus with a left, then dropped him for a nine count. Lesnevich rose weakly only to be banged to the canvas again for nine.

Referee Teddy Waltham, the only official didn't hesitate in giving his verdict. The English crowd exulted. That's our Freddie!"

ASSOCIATION SCRIBES PICK ALL STAR TEAM

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., July 27—American Association baseball writers today pointed out 11 good reasons why Indianapolis and Milwaukee are fair contenders for the 1948 pennant.

The Indians placed seven players, including practically their entire infield, on the league All Star team and Milwaukee spotted four additional players to the mythical honor squad as writers picked the 15 top men out of the eight Association lineups.

Balloting was close in some instances. Only Kansas City's rookie third baseman Al Rosen, was a unanimous choice for the team. The hard hitting Blues hot corner artist, an option from the Cleveland Indians, finally polled all eight first place votes cast by the consensus votes after being polled on his performance.

Leading the All Star team were Indianapolis players as the Indians placed five on the first team. Other first baseman Indianapolis Jack Cassini, second baseman Kansas City Pete Castiglione, shortstop Indianapolis Dick Philpe, utility infielder Minneapolis Eddie Tipton, outfielder St. Paul Ted Beard, outfielder Indianapolis Jim Gleeson, outfielder Milwaukee Mary Rickert, outfielder Milwaukee Ralph Hauk, catcher Kansas City Earl Turner, catcher Indianapolis Al Epperly, pitcher Minneapolis Jim Basgall, pitcher Indianapolis Harvey Haddix, pitcher Columbus Bob Malloy, pitcher Indianapolis.

As in season, All Star game will be played out the 15 players named to the squad will receive appropriate gifts from the league. Each club will send a special delegation to the game to present the awards.

OHIOAN JOINS RAMS

By The Associated Press

BELLAIRE, O., July 27—Tom Keane of Bellaire, West Virginia university's regular quarterback last year, said yesterday he had signed with the Los Angeles Rams of the National football league. He had one more year of eligibility at West Virginia. He is a brother of Jim Keane, Chicago Bear end.

New Outfielder, Peter Trabucco Homers, Doubles To Lead Attack

Special to The Star

LIMA, July 27—Frank Marchelli, aided by a four-run assault on Lima pitching in the sixth inning, hurled the Marion Cubs to a 6-1 victory over the Terriers here last night. Marchelli after permitting four hits in the first two innings kept the plate unscathed except in the fifth when Bob Huddleston drove one of his slants over the right field wall.

Peter Trabucco, Marion's new left fielder who came to the Cubs from Centralia, Ill., to replace Bill Boldue, marked his first appearance with the Bruins with a homer over the left field wall with none on in the eighth.

The Cubs scored in the second inning when Trabucco who had reached first on an error, scored as Bohlender was forcing Marchelli at second.

In the sixth Bobzean and King singled and Kirstie walked to load the bases with none out. Trabucco doubled, scoring Bobzean and King, and Kritzie came on when Marchelli tapped to second. Trabucco moving to third, Trabucco scored on Bohlender's single.

The Terriers' best scoring opportunity came in the first when they loaded the bases with two out on a single, double and pair of batsmen. Dick Starks flied out to end the inning and Tom Gaits then on receipt of Huddleston's pass to Marchelli had the Terriers eating out of his hands.

The victory was Marchelli's seventh against five setbacks.

Two Marion players left today for Muncie where they will play for the league All Stars against the league leading Reds. They are catcher Tom Gaits and pitcher Nick Alivojvodic.

Pleas for Full-Time Drivers For Minor League Team Buses

By OSCAR FRALEY
United Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, July 27—Twice within two years a bus bearing baseball players has become a pyre for minor leaguers struggling toward the top and major leaguers who sweated through such transportation will tell you it is a wonder there aren't more.

It is about time, many of them suggest, that all minor league teams using buses be forced to hire full time drivers instead of using players as chauffeurs.

The most recent crash occurred at Minneapolis on Saturday when six men were killed and 14 were injured, two critically, as a bus carrying the Duluth Dukes collided with a truck. The sixth to die was player Steve Lazar of Oliphant, Pa., who was driving. Two years ago nine were killed in an accident to a bus bearing the Spokane, Wash., club of the Western International league.

Not necessarily in these two cases but all too often those minor league buses are sent lurching through the night by tired and often reckless players anxious to get home. The situation is this:

Hold Down Expenses

On many minor league teams expenses are held down by getting players with drivers' licenses to pilot the bus, the usual mode of travel in the bush leagues. In some cases the player gets something extra for these added chores.

Consider then that the average minor league jump is 200 miles or more. Practically all of the minor league baseball games are at night. Which means after a game ending at about midnight the team rushes into a bus and takes off on the long jump. Tired after the exciting game and exertion of the game, the player-turned-driver is an accident in an accident.

What we say there should be a full time chauffeur. Many clubs have. Why not the rest?

Minor league baseball is a great gamble at best. The salaries are low and only a few get a chance to reach the big top and the larger salaries. There are more than 5,000 players in the minor leagues daily making those nocturnal jaunts through the night and only 400 of them can reach the major leagues.

It has even happened that because a young player is a good bus driver he has retarded his baseball progress. That's difficult to believe but it happened to George Kell, Detroit Tigers third baseman and one of the best in the majors.

Back in 1943, when Kell was burning up the Interstate league with the Lancaster Red Roses, Larry MacPhail heard about his performances and attempted to buy him. The deal was stopped before it could get started.

"MacPhail offered a fancy price," Kell quotes a Lancaster official "but Kell is the only guy who can drive our bus."

Facetious maybe and then maybe not.

For getting the team to and from its games by bus in the minors is more important than having a star pitcher. The teams can't afford Pullman travel and in most cases it wouldn't be available anyhow.

But they certainly could afford a full time driver and eliminate the dangerous necessity of a tired player driving through the night with sagging eyelids.

GRIDDERS WORK OUT

BUCYRUS, July 27—Bucyrus Green Hornets semi-pro football squad owned by Charles A. Michael had its first workout of the season Sunday morning at Aumiller park. The light workout was directed by Coach Carl Kaplanoff. Preliminary plans call for most of the Hornets games to be played on Wednesday nights. The season opens with the Marion Angels the second week in September.

MARION'S Cubs refer to the stuff pitcher manager Ray Hathaway of the Zanesville Dodgers dishes up from the mound as "garbage and respect it about as much as you or I would a blue plate serving right out of the can in the alley and yet the Dodgers pilot has managed to bowl over 15 Ohio-Indiana league opponents with his "garbage" and is leading his charges right into the thick of the pennant battle with it. His 15th victory registered against Newark Sunday, makes him the winningest pitcher in the league and puts him near the top in percentage of games won. He's only lost five.

To be sure Hathaway's pitching offers are not such that the Brooklyn Dodgers will want him up from Zanesville to try them on to a gentleman being as a player on the way down and not up but they're still good enough to fool the young 'uns in the Class D O-I loop. He's said to have spent some time during the war with the major league parent club but was converted into a manager when his stuff failed to throw the National league batters into a fright.

RATHER THAN SPEED, which is much admired down on the farm as well as in the big time, he depends on pitching's three C's: Curves that is, control, and cranium.

If he keeps slinging the garbage as he's done so far this year the Zanesville Avil come up with another winner like Sanford Lambert of last year's club who triumphed in 23 outings, though he was likewise labeled the crème de la garbagio of the loop's pitching crop.

Right now Zanesville's Dodgers whose pilot has won nearly one-third of their games, are in the midst of a series with Newark's Yankees that could see them just one-half game away from the top of the heap before the set is done. Now two and one-half games off the pace if they triumph over Newark twice while Muncie loses they could be in position to assume the lead sometime next weekend.

Their drive will be halted today and tomorrow while the league takes time off for the annual All Star game in Muncie but they'll go back into action Thursday at Newark.

Leo Durocher's Giants Murder Bums, 13-4, at Ebbets Field

By The Associated Press

... Leo Durocher ... the Polo grounds ... a home team ... manager of the New York Giants with all the pomp and glory of a conquering hero.

... Durocher ... from now on Giant followers will never forget ... the Flatbush faithful, the former pilot of the Brooklyn ... last night and watched ... 33-32 ... could get into the park ... know it then but that was the last chance it had to jeer Durocher and the Giants. Once the game got under way, it was Leo who had the laugh.

The Giants opened up on starter Preacher Roe as if he was the intruder of the booing. Before the game was 10 minutes old, Roe was ... to the showers and the Giants had a 5-0 first inning lead on six hits.

The victory was the fifth in 12 meetings with the Dodgers this year ... the Giants still in fifth place, a half game behind the Pittsburgh Pirates. In losing, the Dodgers dropped a notch into the ... place, a half game behind the St. Louis Cardinals and 5½ back of the league-leading Boston Braves.

Flag Battle Resumes

Today the five team battle for the National league flag continues with Boston host to the Pirates in a night game, the Dodgers taking on the Cards at Ebbets field, and the Giants clashing with the Cincinnati Reds at the Polo grounds, under the lights. In another league night contest, Philadelphia meets Chicago.

The torrid four-team fight for the American league flag also resumes today with the pace-setting Boston Red Sox hoping to better their .... percentage point margin over Philadelphia's Athletics at the expense of the Tigers at Detroit. The A's engage the third-place Indians in Cleveland and the New York Yankees clash with the Browns in St. Louis. In the other game Washington comes to grips with the White Sox at Chicago. All are night affairs.

U.S. OLYMPIC TRACK TEAM IN PEAK FORM

By The Associated Press

LONDON, July 27—Cloudless skies and another spell of hot weather sent confidence spiraling among American Olympic athletes today.

The track and field squad—spurred by the favorable break in the weather—was reported particularly in peak form.

King George will launch the games Thursday in elaborate ceremonies at Wembley stadium. The competition proper will get under way Friday with 5,000 athletes from 61 nations vieing in 17 sports.

The first event Friday in the high jump and on the basis of what 19 year-old George Saitch of UCLA did at Uxoridge in the 88-degree heat yesterday the United States appears ready for that specialty.

The lanky exponent spilled himself over six feet nine and then decided to lay off until Friday.

The Olympic record is six feet seven and 15/16 inches.

Cliff Bourland, 29-year-old Los Angeles product entered in the 200 meters sped 300 yards in 30 seconds flat, beating Harrison Dillard of Baldwin-Wallace and Barney Ewell of Lancaster, Pa., two other U. S. dash stars.

Mal Whitfield of Ohio State looked sharp in coasting through the 660 in 1:20 while his 400 meter running mate, Dave Bolen of Colorado was a second faster.

REDS GET PITCHING HELP FOR SWING EAST

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, July 27 — The Cincinnati Reds arrived today to open a 13 game eastern swing and brought along two newcomers intended to bolster the Red pitching staff

The New York Giants will provide the first opposition tonight Leo Durocher chose Larry Jansen to start The Reds were banking on Johnny Vander Meer, the no-hit hero of 1938

Kenneth Burkhart, a 21-year-old righthander from Fairview O., is one of the newcomers to the Reds uniform He was acquired yesterday from the St Louis Cardinals in a trade for Babe Young, a first baseman Burkhart won three and lost six for the Cards last year while appearing in 34 games He has been used as a relief pitcher this year

The other new Red is Jim Blackburn, a graduate of Cincinnati sandlots, who came up from the Reds farm club in the Sally league Playing for Columbia the lanky righthander won 10 and lost eight A veteran of World War two, Blackburn also was a war prisoner of the Germans.

KLIEMAN, PAIGE TO GET CHANCE TO START

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, July 27—Ed Klieman and Leroy (Satchel) Paige two relief pitchers until now lightly regarded by Cleveland Indian Manager Lou Boudreau have moved into the front line of the Indians pennant fight with Boudreau's surprise statement that both would be given starting opportunities

Klieman will take the mound tonight against the second-place Philadelphia Athletics in the opener of a crucial two-week set against eastern teams which battered the Tribe in its last tour He will oppose Dick Fowler, leading Mackmen hurler with nine victories and two losses.

Boudreau indicated Paige fabulous Negro hurler who has twirled acceptably in relief stints, would be put on a "once-a-week" starting basis to help take up the slack caused by the slump of Bobby Feller

The A's, one and one-half games ahead of the third-place Indians, have been crippled by injuries to first baseman Ferris Fain and outfielder Elmer Valo, two key players in the surge of the amazing Athletics.

STEADY EMPLOYMENT

By The Associated Press

CINCINNATI—The Cincinnati Reds have had only three groundskeepers since the team joined the National league in 1876 Matty Schwab, who is recognized as one of the top men in his profession, has been chief groundskeeper for the Reds since succeeding his father in 1903.

Millers Open Drive For AA 1st Division

By The Associated Press

The fifth place Minneapolis Millers have opened an offensive to gain the first division of the American association—and leading it is lanky Joe Lafata, 28-year-old outfielder who was dropped by the New York Giants last year after hitting an anemic 221

Lafata stretched his consecutive game hitting streak through 28 games last night

The Millers swept a doubleheader from Milwaukee, giving the Brews' hopes of a pennant another jolt A barrage of five homers gave the Millers an easy 11-2 triumph in the opener and Mario Picone hurled a four hitter in leading Minneapolis to a 6-1 nightcap win

The twin killing dropped the Brewers 3½ games behind leading Indianapolis, which was idle last night.

Kansas City walloped St Paul 10-3

Columbus only one percentage point behind St. Paul, missed a chance to forge ahead by losing 7-2 to Louisville Young Johnny McCall scattered seven hits for the win while his mates hammered Clarence Beers for 10 of their 11 hits and seven runs

Southerners Suggest Truman Impeachment

By The United Press

CAMDEN S C. July 27—Impeachment of President Truman was urged today in letters sent members of the South Carolina congressional delegation by State Sen R M Kennedy

Kennedy suggested that impeachment be the first action taken at the special session which convened yesterday

"This is no wild and radical idea" he wrote, "but the result of sober consideration of the circumstances which surround the summoning of this special session by the President

"At a time when our international situation is precarious as can be imagined, the action of the chief executive in summoning congress for the avowed purpose of playing petty politics is criminal Any man who would deliberately create such a situation would go even further and also deliberately throw us into another war in order to save himself from defeat."

MOLNAR FACES PRISON TERM

Fired Police Officer Is Found Guilty on Eight Counts in Cleveland.

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, July 27—Fired Police Lieutenant Ernest L. Molnar today faced a possible prison sentence of one to 80 years for accepting $80 000 in bribes from convicted policy racketeers

Molnar was found guilty last night on all eight counts of a bribery indictment, but Mayor Thomas A Burke declared "other phases" of the city's investigation of bribes would be announced later

He asserted he and the safety department headed by Director William Smith "have known for some time that a few members of the police department warranted scrutiny, and I want to emphasize that we have been and are, doing something about that

Jury Foreman Joseph R Miller said members of the panel voted 8 to 4 in favor of conviction of Molnar on the first ballot

"After 10 or so ballots we agreed," Miller said "The main question in the minds of those four people (who dissented) was the credibility of the witnesses who had police records"

Star witnesses for the state included Luis Lorenzo, Harold Morgan and Fletcher Hudson, convicted racketeers who testified they had given "protection" payments ranging from $25 to $1,500 to Molnar for several years

Lorenzo told the court he had paid Molnar monthly bribes of $1,500 in order to "protect" his policy game operations

Accepting the verdict stolidly, Molnar was asked by a newsman if he thought he had received a fair trial He replied "oh, sure"

Playground Is Busy Place In Oakland Heights Area

One of the most popular spots in Oakland Heights these days is the playground at the Oakland school set up this summer by interested residents of the community. While the playground is far from what the community hopes it will be, it is answering a long-felt need, the children are enjoying it immensely and the grown-ups are working, hoping and getting a lot of pleasure seeing the youngsters enjoying real games and sports in their home community.

About 50 children are making use of the playground these days. Thanks to interested persons who have contributed work money and gifts in the way of croquet sets, baseball bats and balls, volley ball courts and other sport equipment, the children are making out in a big way.

One of the most hoped-for items at the moment is a sand box. The sand is available and all that is lacking is a dump truck to transport it to the playground. Some sand has been donated and some purchased. The owner of the purchased sand is going halves with the playground sponsors which brings the purchase to a very nominal sum.

To Build Fireplace

Another hope is a fireplace for wiener roasts and there is a need for horseshoes for the horseshoe court. A neighbor will be glad to build a fire place but he needs assistance. Tables and benches have been made where the children enjoy picnics and do handicraft. More tables and benches are needed. But the lumber is lacking.

The playground is a boon to mothers who can find time to spend a few hours with the children there and they do the double duty of assisting with the supervising. One mother whose little daughter spent months in a hospital recovering from infantile paralysis, is finding the playground just the spot for the youngster to play and at the same time get the needed exercise. With several other children one a tiny tot, the mother otherwise would have to confine her daughter's exercising to her own yard. Another youngster also an infantile paralysis victim is now playing her way back to health.

Play Supervised

Play is supervised from 9 a. m. to noon and 1 to 4:30 p. m. Mothers in the community try to arrange their work so they can be on the job if needed and somehow or other schedules are arranged so that enough are on hand to see that all goes well. Careful attention is given to health and the children are watched closely for any symptoms of disease.

To say that residents of the community are happy over the progress made to date, is putting it mildly and if work and enthusiasm count, the project is headed for a long and successful life.

It is a community project and also an asset to the civic life of Marion. While the residents of the community are behind the movement anyone interested in assisting in any way will be most welcome. Interested persons may call Mrs. H. C. Murphy of 734 Uncapher avenue phone 4128.

11 INJURED AS BUS SWERVES FROM ROAD

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, July 27—Eleven persons were injured last night when a Greyhound bus left the highway in nearby Independence, ran across two yards, and flattened two mailboxes and a pair of evergreen trees.

Ten of the 40 passengers and the driver, Elmer Smith, 33, of Canton, were taken to hospitals. Smith later was released after treatment for bruises.

The bus, bound for Akron from Cleveland, went off the road when it swerved to avoid a parked car, police said.

Most seriously injured were Mrs. Jeanne McNichols, 32 of Everett, O., and Miss Mary Fishburn, 26, of Akron. Both suffered possible spine fractures and were reported in fair condition.

Passengers treated and released include Mrs. Rachael Bryarly, 41, Steubenville, back contusions, and Mrs. Ella Bergin, 43, Steubenville, scalp cuts.
